REIMBURSEMENT POLICY

To qualify for an expenditure reimbursement, a participant must have extra dollars in their account once all financial obligations for the mission trip have been met. According to the IRS all reimbursements must be received by the Finance Department at Reign Ministries by August 31. All receipts must be included. No checks will be cut for reimbursement prior to team's arrival home.

For an expenditure to qualify for reimbursement, it must be purchased specifically for the trip and for the participant specifically, not a parent/guardian accompanying a participant, that a person would otherwise not have to, or be required, to purchase. Therefore, articles such as cosmetics, toiletries and eye care, are not reimbursable because these items are either non-essential or would be used were the person to remain at home (even if you purchase travel-sized items). Also, reimbursements must be for items paid for by the participant, not as support raised trip costs.

Because of the requirements laid out in our dress code some clothing items are reimbursable. See reverse side for specific items and maximum reimbursement allowance per item; these are listed in parenthesis after the item. Full purchase amount will be reimbursed where no dollar amount is listed.

Reimbursements will be issued as long as your account has overage of funds to cover the expense.
